

Urban Faint

Dusk settles, and the world teeters on the edge between light and darkness. The sounds move through space like a pulse, a breath-like rhythm that transforms the atmosphere around you. The music is a meditation in sound—a deep, immersive experience that dissolves time and place.

Urban Faint is a duo exploring field recordings, improvisation, and an ambient, cinematic atmosphere. A sonic landscape that invites the audience into a space where acoustic instruments, digital sampling, improvisation, and live electronics merge.

In the concert format, the goal is to create a shared immersive experience within the listening space—to capture the unique essence of the moment. The music emerges from a collective listening between the audience and the musicians, where improvisation and presence shape an experience that feels both intimate and boundless. Each performance becomes an exploration of sound's depth and its ability to connect the familiar with the unknown.
