

Sales support - intern

Are you passionate about market research, marketing, social media and photo editing?

Adding value to our customers is one of our primary tasks. We therefore want to help our customers to “catch” even more of their customers: it’s the key in B2B cooperation, and we need your skills to help encounter that for our customers. Creating and planning marketing campaigns and how to create brand awareness for our customers, and how to communicate with customer, also in a time, where we are not able to visit them.

You would be trusted with a lot of different and advanced objectives, and the right person to the position would gain a lot of responsibility and freedom, to create and be creative. This also means, that the right person would be trusted with the freedom to influence the direction of the position, to a point of which you, and we as a business could benefit from each other.

The internship is places in our sales department, where you will get needed support as well.

The tasks:

- Market research
- Social media marketing
- Visual communication
- Photography of products and creating basic/simple catalogs
- Other sales related tasks

We prefer if you:

- Have good skills in working with pictures, maybe self-taught in this area
- Have experience with making/creating visual and digital marketing materials
- Are creative
- Are analytical and thorough, so you can create plans from your research-results, and follow the plans
- Speak/write English, and preferable also Danish
- Think and work independently

Our company is located in Kolding.

You will come to work in an international company with very dedicated, young people from different countries.

We have good working conditions, lunch agreement, and an informal environment.

The internship will last for 4-6 months and starts by agreement.
