

DRESSED to kill in rag-bag fashions, Valli waits while Ferdi knocks up a new set of jewellery—with an electric welder!

MEET WEEKEND'S GLAMOR GHOUL!

DID you ever see a dream walking?

No? Well, now's your chance—meet the No. 1 BAD DREAM-girl of Paris.

She blacks her OWN eyes, tangles her hair into KNOTS, and gets her ideas for glamor straight out of NIGHTMARES!

She's — Australian!

But before you start tch-tch-ing over "what these French females will do to hit the headlines"—wait for the rest of the story!

These "horse-blinkers" are the latest thing in ear-wear among Valli's smart set in the Paris Latin Quarter.

Our macabre model isn't French! She isn't even Continental! She's AUSTRALIAN.

Maybe she's the girl who used to live next door to YOU!

I can't tell you for sure, because SHE won't say.

When she took off for Paris she changed her name to Valli and dropped her past into deep, dark mystery.

She wouldn't even show her face until Weekend's cameraman talked her into

TWO lovely black eyes and a set of iron jewellery are Valli's recipe for camera appeal.

posing for these glamorghoul pictures.

Then she insisted on modelling her idea of high-fashion jewellery; all sorts of gewgaws made of IRON!

Prize pin-up

They're specially designed to go with the circles under Valli's big, black eyes, by Dutch sculptress Ferdi.

And Valli's the international art set's prize pin-up girl of the Paris Latin Quarter.

B-R-R-R! E-E-E-K!

No, this dreadful dish with the mangled mane ISN'T Dracula's daughter. She isn't even a horror-film star. Maybe she's the girl who used to live next door to you! Who is she? TURN TO PAGE 17 and solve the mystery of WEEKEND'S nomination for the Glamor Ghoul of The Year! You'll get the shock of your life!
