Earn at least £60k per year for doing nothing!

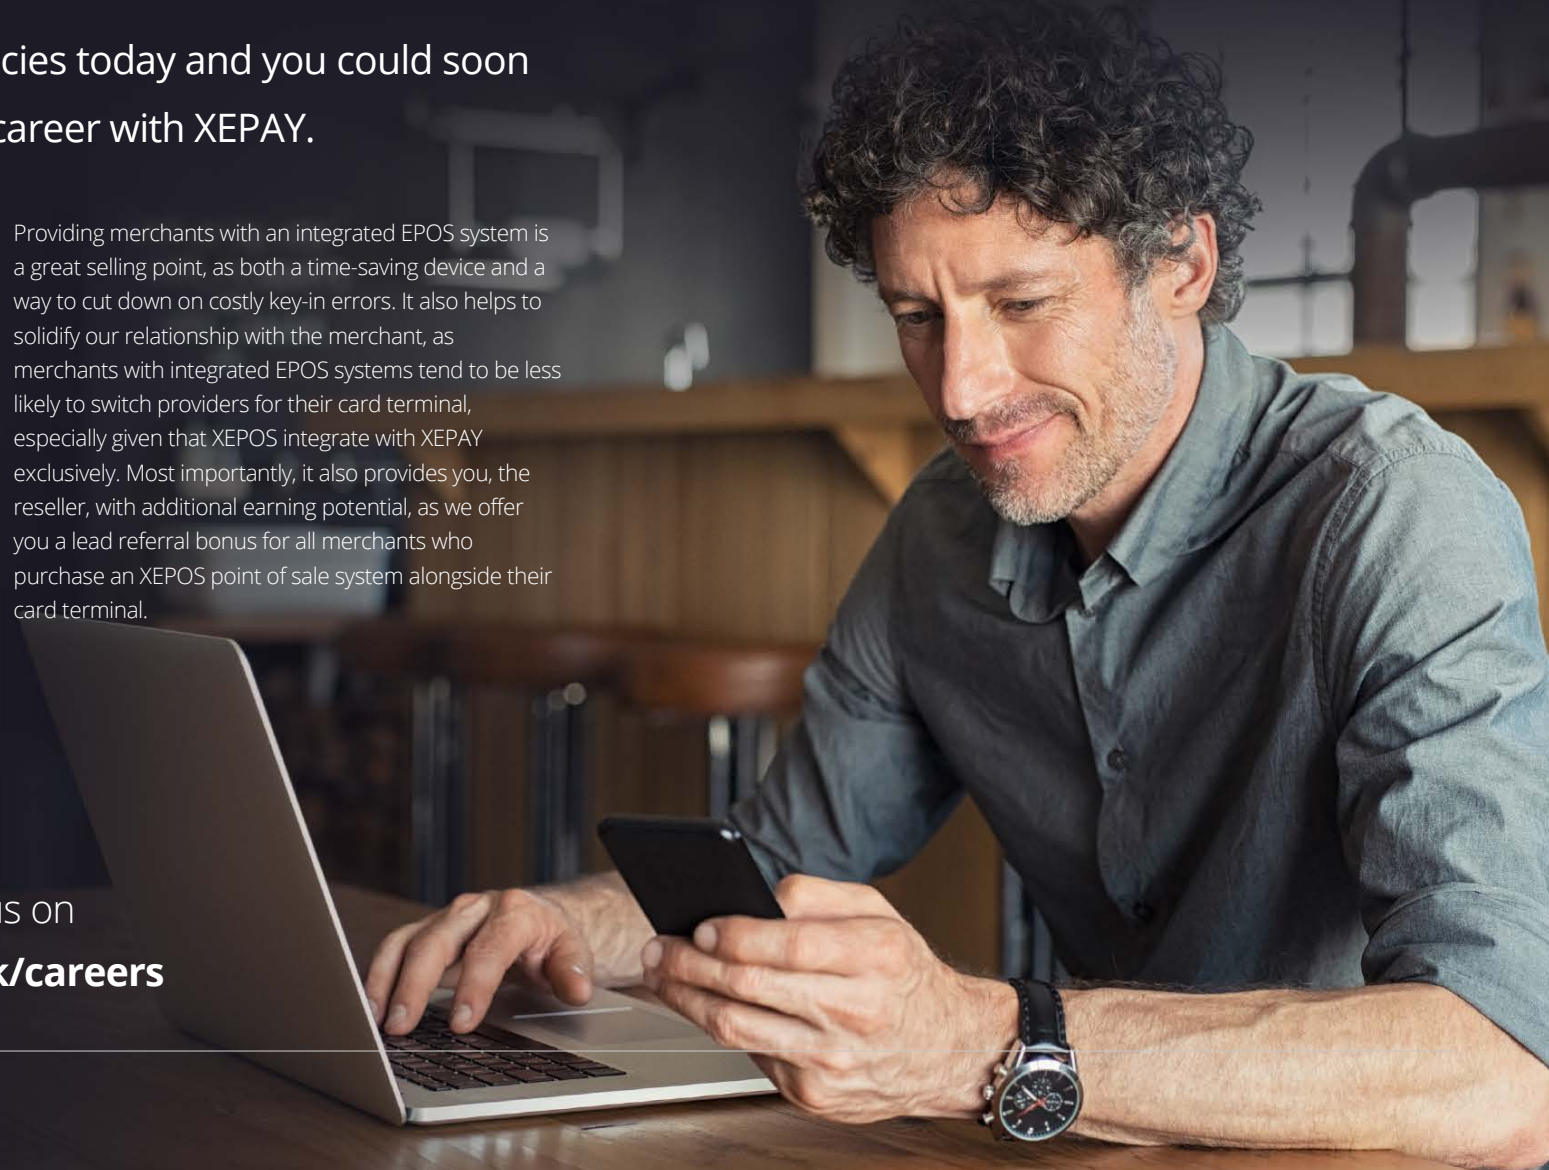

An average XEPAY Reseller will make at least 3-5 new sales every week, with commission ranging from £200 to £1,200 per successful sign up. This means the average reseller can easily earn upwards of £60,000 per year! With XEPAY, the sky really is the limit, and we do not put any cap or upper threshold on the amount that you can earn with us.

In addition to this, we also offer an "EPOS lead referral bonus", and ongoing residual income for card merchants that you sign up.

As well as this, XEPAY works alongside XEPOS to provide electronic point of sale (or "EPOS") systems which integrate directly with our card machines. XEPOS is a well established player in the EPOS market, with several thousand customers across the UK, Europe and North America, and caters to all major business sectors including retail, hospitality and salons.

Providing merchants with an integrated EPOS system is a great selling point, as both a time-saving device and a way to cut down on costly key-in errors. It also helps to solidify our relationship with the merchant, as merchants with integrated EPOS systems tend to be less likely to switch providers for their card terminal, especially given that XEPOS integrate with XEPAY exclusively. Most importantly, it also provides you, the reseller, with additional earning potential, as we offer you a lead referral bonus for all merchants who purchase an XEPOS point of sale system alongside their card terminal.
